

There's More to your Story than Hep C

October 7, 2015 By Connie M. Welch

If you feel overwhelmed with where you're at with Hep C, treatment, or life in general, you will find ✖ great resources of strength and hope through the message God has for you. Take time each day to read and meditate on His Word.

God has used this encouraging message to echo in my heart many times as He has never failed to get me through my hard places. This message is for every Hep C Warrior.

Let us fix our eyes on Jesus, the author and perfecter of our faith, who for the joy set before him endured the cross, scorning its shame, and sat down at the right hand of the throne of God. Consider him who endured such opposition from sinful men, so that you will not grow weary and lose heart. Hebrews 12:2-3 NIV

You'll get through this. It won't be painless. It won't be quick. But God will use this mess for good. Don't be foolish or naïve. But don't despair either. With God's help, you will get through this. -Max Lucado

Let us not become weary in doing good, for at the proper time we will reap a harvest if we do not give up. Galatians 6:9 NIV

Take Heart Hep C Warrior.

Don't allow your present trouble to cast a shadow of doubt and blind you from hope. Real hope perseveres and keeps moving forward, toward what is waiting. . . the good part.

Persevere so that one day you can say, "I have fought the good fight, I have finished the race, I have kept the faith." 2 Timothy 4:7 NIV

Keep believing because the prize, the victory is there for you!

Hope keeps looking and believing in the rest of the story. Your story. The Best is yet to come.

Pray and ask God for extra strength and courage in your battle this week.

No matter what you are going through, remember, its temporary. There's more to your story than you...

Where are you at right now with Hep C?
